WRITES AN EPISTLE.

Wife of Former Official Is Alleged to

to Turn Them Over When Called Upon to Do So.

Mayor of Cleveland Is of the Opinion
He Can Serve the Democratic Party Better by Looking After Ohio Interests.

Washington, April 24.—As a result of the investigation of the postoffice department affair Postmaster General Payne Thursday announced the summary dismissal of James N. Tyner, assistant attorney general for the postoffice department, and charged that all the papers and records in the safe of Tyner's office had been abstracted by Mrs. Tyner, wife of the discharge officer, with the assistance of others. The postmaster general says that Mrs. Tyner had refused the demand of the government for the papers, and said circumstances in the case would be submitted by him to the department of justice at once. The question of arrests is now under consideration, and will be passed on immediately by Attorney General Knox.

Mr. Tyner came to the office of the assistant general attorney at 5:45 p.m. Tuesday and remained there exactly an hour. Mr. Bridlow asked authority to have Mrs. Tyner ejected from the office. The authority came too late. When the inspector returned Mrs. Tyner had left. The safe, on being examined, was found to be empty. The affair created much excitement among the investigating officials, but the news was concealed carefully from the public. Two inspectors were dispatched to the Tyner residence to recover the papers. Mrs. Tyner refused to give them up, saying she was acting under the direction of her husband. She told the inspectors, so they reported, that they had no right to the papers, as Mr. Tyner was still assistant attorney general, and, moreover, insisted that the papers were all of a private character. It is suspected at the department that the papers have some connection with the recent conduct of the office. Some weeks ago a turf investment concern, whose affairs were aired in court, alleged that its operations and working methods had been sanctioned by the assistant attorney general or the postoffice department. The charges involving the office of the assistant attorney general and a lawyer formerly connected with the office were ventilated, and an investigation was ordered by the postmaster general. This was really the inception of the investigation that has spread into every part of the department. The complaints crystallized into a formal request for Mr. Tyner's resignation, signed by Postmaster General Payne on March 9 last.

AFTER A LICENSE.

There Is Much Discussion as to Whether
It Will Be Granted Vanderbilt.

London, April 24.—William K. Vanderbilt has returned to Paris. His hurried visit to London was connected with procuring a special marriage license. There is much discussion as to whether a license could be issued under the circumstances. It was said the ecclesiastical court could not refuse, whatever its feelings in regard to divorced persons, but it was added that it could delay matters probably a fortnight by requiring the production of documents which would have to be obtained from America. At the Archbishop of Canterbury's office it was said that the archbishop has the undoubted right to refuse a license. No application has yet been received from Mr. Vanderbilt. For an ordinary license one of the parties must live in any parish here for three weeks and have the banns read in the church on three successive Sundays. The French formalities require a residence of six months.

Must Go to Binghamton.

Little Rock, Ark., April 24.—Campau of New Orleans has been directed by Secretary Farrell of the national board of arbitration to report at once for service on the Binghamton, New York, team. President Kavanaugh of the Southern league has notified Campau that he cannot play at New Orleans or manage the team there until he shows a release from Binghamton.

S. E. Guillet of Ardmore has been appointed major general of the Indian Territory Hills.

Thinks it Not Good Policy to Name
Him as Nominee.

Kansas City, April 24.—Mayor Tom L. Johnson, of Cleveland, O., under date of April 21, wrote the following letter to J. L. W. Merrill, of this city, a Democratic politician, in response to a letter from Merrill discussing Johnson's nomination for president in 1904:

"Relying to your favor of the 17th inst., permit me to say that I think my field of usefulness is right here in this city and at most in the state of Ohio, and I must condemn any movement such as you speak of as being unwise and undesirable. Mere talk about nominating me in 1904 is positive injury to what I am trying to accomplish here, and it does seem to me too bad to interfere with work that is bearing such good fruit. I do hope you, as a friend of mine, will discourage this in every way possible. I am grateful to you for your kind words, but I believe on consideration you will agree with my conclusion."

NOT TO EXHIBIT.

Eighteen Large German Firms Refuse to Take Part in Exposition.

New York, April 24.—German manufacturers and exporters cables the Berlin correspondent of the Herald that they propose to boycott the St. Louis exposition. Out of eighteen large firms all allied to the Essen chamber of commerce all but one have resolved to refrain from exhibiting, and a report just received from Solingen announces that all manufacturers and all industrial firms belonging to the chamber of commerce of that city have resolved unanimously not to exhibit.

Only a few weeks ago a German publishing house agreed to boycott the St. Louis exposition because of defective copyright laws and wholesale translation of German publications in the United States, equivalent to literary piracy.

The firm of Krupp, of Essen, which was the largest German exhibitor at Chicago, obstinately refuses to exhibit at St. Louis. Similar resolutions have been carried by numerous chambers of commerce, especially in the industrial region of the Rhine, Westphalia and Silesia.

In Saxony, it is learned, the feeling against exhibiting at St. Louis is acute.

ALL QUIET.

There Was No Excitement in the Lower House Thursday.

Springfield, Ill., April 24.—The opening session of the legislature was calm after the storm Thursday, although there was a decided under-current of feeling against Speaker Miller, which threatened to break out again if similar tactics of Thursday were attempted. The chief interest in the traction question centered around the appointment of a committee to investigate charges of attempted bribery in behalf of the Mueller bill, made Thursday by Speaker Miller. The speaker would not announce to members committee and none of his followers gave out names if they knew them. Members opposed to Speaker Miller flatly declared they did not believe there was anything in the charge made by the speaker and announced their intention of pushing home the matter in such a way that Mr. Miller will be compelled to prove his assertion of attempted bribery or admit he could not make it good.

Same Statement.

Washington, April 24.—Ross Perry, attorney for Mrs. James N. Tyner, whose husband was summarily removed from the position of assistant secretary general of the postoffice department under rather ~~several~~ circumstances, called upon Attorney General Knox and talked over the case with him. He made the attorney general substantially the same statement given out by him Thursday night, namely that papers taken by Mrs. Tyner from the safe in her husband's office on Tuesday were altogether personal, but that they would be returned when called for. The attorney general declines to make any statement concerning case pending the receipt of papers, which has not yet been referred to the department by the postmaster general.

Mormons in Germany.

Berlin, April 24.—The government of Prussia and Grand Duchy of Mecklenburg has decided to expel Mormon missionaries, whom there are 145 in Germany and ninety in Prussia, on the ground that they are propagating a form of religious belief incompatible with the laws of the state and public morals, and because polygamy is not excluded from their doctrines.

Missionaries, who are Americans are to be allowed sufficient time to settle up all personal affairs.

Indigestion Causes Catarrh of the Stomach.

For many years it has been supposed that Catarrh of the Stomach caused indigestion and dyspepsia, but the truth is exactly the opposite. Indigestion causes catarrh. Repeated attacks of indigestion inflames the mucous membranes lining the stomach and exposes the nerves of the stomach, thus causing the glands to secrete mucus instead of the juices of natural digestion. This is called Catarrh of the Stomach.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure

Text Book Compromise Measure Prevails by a Unanimous Vote.

Three teachers of five years experience, governor, attorney general, superintendent of public instruction and commissioners of insurance constitute the board. The teachers are all appointed by the governor.

House passed bill authorizing Austin to rebuild dam. Also bill providing for refunding $288,000 state bonds. Adjournment until Monday.

GOES INTO STATION.

Southern Railway Will Run Passenger Trains into Union Depot.

New Orleans, April 24.—A story was printed here to the effect that beginning July 1, the Southern railway will come into New Orleans, operating their Mobile and Ohio passenger trains and Illinois Central trains into the union station. It is said that only passenger traffic in connection with the St. Louis division of the Southern-Mobile and Ohio property will be affected by the new departure, and that at present no severance of agreement between the Louisville and Nashville and Southern in handling of eastern business is contemplated. The actual entry of the Southern, however, is considered of considerable importance. In connection with this it is learned that the Queen and Crescent's going into the union station is now simply dependent on its terms of agreement being prepared.

BAILEY'S BIG FEE.

Receives Two Hundred Thousand Dollars from John H. Kirby

Chicago, April 24.—A dispatch to the Record Herald from New York says: "United States Senator J. W. Bailey of Texas is receiving congratulations on having recently been paid a fee of $200,000. John H. Kirby, the 'industrial king' of Texas, recently determined to refinance one of his large companies operating in the pine forests of southeastern Texas and employed Mr. Bailey to assist in enlisting New York financiers in the enterprise, his compensation to be fee and commission amounting to $200,000. The negotiations were successful and Mr. Kirby has informed Texas friends that Mr. Bailey received that amount."

The discussion of reformatories at the National Conference of Charities and Correction at Atlanta in May will be of especial interest to Southern delegates.

The general secretary of the conference, Joseph P. Byers, is in charge of the Indiana reformatory, where felons from 16 to 30 years of age, convicted of a first offense, are sent for reform. The experience of the United States with such institutions has been that 75 to 80 per cent. of first offense prisoners give no further trouble after being treated by this plan. Closely akin to this is the question of juvenile reformatories, by which boys of tender age can be reclaimed instead of sending them to jails or penitentiaries with hardened criminals as at present in most Southern states.

Corn and forage crops are promising in Central and Eastern Texas, and diversification is becoming general all over the State. MRS. M. A. BOOTH.

Mrs. M. A. Booth died in San Antonio at 9:30 o'clock Thursday night, May 23. She had been in failing health some time, but her death was not expected by the members of the family in Bryan, and came as a sad blow to them. Mrs. Booth was 53 years old and a daughter of Mr. A. G. Dunnica of this city. She was born in Huntsville and lived in Bryan nearly thirty years. She left only a few months ago in the hope of improving her health.

Mrs. Booth was a sister of Messrs. T. A. and A. L. Dunnica of this city, and she leaves two sons, Messrs. Charles Booth of Saginaw, Mich., and John Booth, of Chicago. The latter was with her at the time of her death. Her husband, Joseph Booth, died twenty years ago and is buried at Madisonville. The remains of Mrs. Booth were laid to rest in San Antonio yesterday. Mrs. Booth was a member of the Christian church and lived an exemplary Christian life.

The members of the family have the sympathy of many friends.

J. T. Taylor of Wealthy, Leon county, is the inventor of a machine for the extermination of boll weevils and other insect pests. Mr. Taylor was in the city yesterday exhibiting a model of the machine, made by J. Allen Myers. It includes a furnace, which burns any kind of fuel, and a chemical preparation that makes the fumes. The smoke and fumes are conducted by pipes through two tanks of water and thoroughly cooled to prevent damage to the plant, to which they are applied by means of a rubber hose with a double nozzle. An eighteen-foot stretch of canvas on hoops like the bows of a wagon confines the fumes to the plant until all insect life is killed. The whole apparatus is mounted on a two-horse wagon and straddles the cotton row when in operation. The smoke and fumes are forced through the machine by means of a bellows. The machine looks like it is practical and Mr. Taylor says he has tried it and it has killed every kind of insect with which it has come in contact and does not injure the plant. Mr. Taylor was accompanied by R. B. Anderson of Wealthy.

MRS. HELENA BLAU,

Young Milwaukee Society Woman.

EN thousand cured women have written to tell how Wine of Cardui bestows the blessing of health on every woman who takes it, rich and poor alike. Mrs. Helena Blau, No. 123 Seventh Street, Milwaukee, Wis., is one of the young women whom Wine of Cardui has rescued from a life of suffering. She writes:

"Wine of Cardui is certainly 'worn out' women's best friend and I am pleased to give my experience with it. A few months ago I caught a severe cold, having been out in inclement weather, which settled all over me, particularly in the abdomen. I was in almost constant pain. I consulted a physician and took his medicine for a month and without any relief. I then decided I would try your medicine and it was a lucky day for me when I did so. I noticed a change in a few days and felt encouraged to continue taking Wine of Cardui, and my patience was rewarded, for in two weeks my pains had left me and I felt like a new woman."

The woman who has suffered from female weakness should do anything within reason to secure health. Wine of Cardui is the medicine that appeals to reasonable women—women who hold operations and cutting in horror—women who know that Nature is the best physician. Wine of Cardui gives women back their health by giving Nature a chance to build up the wasted and diseased tissue. Wine of Cardui regulates the menstrual flow and Nature, when relieved of the drains or of the poisons in the system, makes the functional organs strong and healthy again.

Any woman who is silently suffering untold pains because she is too sensitive to undergo a physician's examination and treatment can find no excuse for not securing relief when Wine of Cardui is offered to her. There is no publicity to deter her. She can take Wine of Cardui in the privacy of her home, with as much assurance of a final cure as though a dozen doctors recommended it. Many physicians do recommend Wine of Cardui to their patients.

Why not get a $1.00 bottle of Wine of Cardui from your druggist today?

A million suffering women have found relief in Wine of Cardui.

MORGAN TALKS.

The Alabama Senator Thinks His Party Through With Dissensions.

Mobile, Ala., April 24.—Senator John T. Morgan has arrived here. As to politics, he says in an interview with the Register:

"President Roosevelt has gone into his hole and pulled it in after him, so to speak, and we don't any of us know what is to be the result. The political situation at large strikes me about this way:

The Democratic party has had its difficulties, its dissensions, its wrangles, until it is well satisfied to come together in a movement for success. The Republican party is now entering this rocky road that we have but abandoned, and it will likely get several knock downs before it is through. It is beginning its internal dissensions; we are through with ours. We must agree on a settled line of policy. The principles of the Democratic party—its principles of the last hundred years—are such as receive the endorsement of the people of this country. If we stand by those principles we will win. There are a lot more Democrats in this country than Republicans because every Democrat has principle to account for his faith, while every Republican is simply an opportunist, who attempts to do what is best for the moment, without thought for the future. Many men are on the lookout for opportunity to 'make hay while the sun shines,' but the people of sedate convictions and settled principles are with the Democratic party when it stands by its old and honored creeds."

Girl's Ride Through Terrific Blizzard

The Lodge Pole creek valley, in the vicinity where the creek crosses the Wyoming-Nebraska state line, has a heroine, and she is Gertrude, the thirteen-year-old daughter of the late John Goette and his wife, Gretchen.

Mr. Goette perished in the fierce Wyoming and western Nebraska blizzard of last month.

Mr. Goette was a wealthy cattlemen and had lately purchased and stocked a new ranch, on which he temporarily lived with Gertrude.

On the 18th came the first wind and snow of the approaching blizzard, and Mr. Goette, foreseeing a big storm, started for an outlying portion of his range to bring in a small bunch of his cattle.

The day of the 18th closed amid sweeping wind and driven snow. Night came on tempest wings, and with the morning of the 19th the terrific blizzard was at its height.

Bravely the solitary girl bore herself during the long and anguish laden hours of that awful day, stanchly hoping against hope for her father's return.

Drearly, wearily the day drew to a close, and then, as the shades of falling night thickened the somber shadows of the swirling storm, there came riderless to the ranch door her father's horse. Her prophetic fears were realized—her father was perishing in the snow and help and rescue must be sought.

The horse had lost his bridle and there was no other at the ranch. Hastily tearing into strips a piece of stout cloth, Gertrude wove together a rude headstall for the animal, with similar reins, and springing into her father's empty saddle she fearlessly urged the horse into the double darkness and danger of the blizzard and the night.

She knew that a ranch lay six miles distant, and in the direct onward track of the storm. Keeping the wind, therefore, full at her back she, desperate, but not despairing, pressed forward until dimly through the densely driven snow shone the lights of the saving

THE GIRL URGED HER HORSE ONWARD, ran—the ranch to reach which so many dangers had been dared, so much suffering sustained.

Kindly hands and commiserating hearts cared for Gertrude the rest of that night, and in the early dawn of next morning the heroic child rode amid the foremost of those who volunteered to search for her father. The blizzard, however, still raged, and the snow heaps still grew, the quest proving fruitless for that day.

All hope of Mr. Goette surviving the storm was now abandoned, and the next search was for his body, which was finally found ice shrouded and snow coffined.

Italy's Newest Brigand.

Varsalona, the Sicilian brigand whose notoriety has overshadowed that of Musolino, is still at large notwithstanding the unremitting efforts of the government for his capture. Two torpedo boats are cruising off the Sicilian coast to prevent his escape to the Italian mainland. A prize of $5,000 is offered for his arrest. The provinces of Palermo and Trapani, where he is supposed to be, are continually patrolled. His father and one of his brothers, notorious miscreants, died in prison, another brother was implicated in a case of burglary, and a third was killed in a street brawl.

To avenge his brother's death Varsalona committed his first murder in 1893. Since then twelve other victims have fallen under his unerring aim. The man is rich, and the source of his wealth is blackmail. He regularly collects landowners' contributions, which vary according to the importance of their estates, and when the money is not forthcoming the cattle and crops or the defaulter are sure to suffer, and the defaulter himself runs great personal risks.
